

A map of the state of Victoria, Australia, shown in yellow. The map highlights the southern coastline with three specific locations marked: Port Phillip Bay, Western Port, and Corner Inlet. The surrounding ocean is light blue, and the rest of the world is shown in grey. A scale bar at the bottom left indicates distances up to 200 Kilometres, and a north arrow is located at the bottom right.

Victoria

Port Phillip Bay

Western Port

Corner Inlet

0 100 200 Kilometres

