
ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

The authors wish to thank Messrs P Fitzsimons, D. Hill, and M. Ransom, Field Operations Division, Soil Conservation Authority, for contributing information based on their professional experience in the area.

Thanks are also due to other Soil Conservation Authority staff members, and to the Draughting Section of the Ministry for Conservation, without whose help this report could not have been produced in the short time available.

The excellent co-operation of Mr R Neil, Consulting Engineer, which made team work a pleasure, is gratefully acknowledged.

Special mention must be made of the Department of Crown Lands and Surveys, which printed and made available a large number of essential air photographs in a matter of days. Without this assistance our work would have been much more difficult and less accurate.
